Upswing Reverses Setback Suffered Earlier in Week

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market staged a sharp rally today from its huge setback earlier this week. Gains ranged to almost $6 a share in early afternoon with prices at their best level of the day. The upswing began at the opening of trading, encountered minor profit taking at midday, then resumed its momentum in the afternoon.

Sees Evidence Of 'Collusion' In Organizing

Senator McClellan Makes Statement During Questioning

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) said today the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee has received "perfectly plain evidence of collusion" between the Morton Frozen Foods Co., and the Bakery Workers Union.

He made the statement in questioning James G. Cross, president of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers Union, who denied any personal participation in the organization of workers at the Morton company plant in Webster City, Iowa.

Cross denied that he had any conversations with Nathan Shefferman of Chicago, whose Labor Relations Associates aided in the organization. Shefferman is a friend of Dave Beck, retiring president of the Teamsters Union.

Representatives of the Shefferman organization had sparked a drive that defeated organization efforts at the frozen foods plant by the United Packinghouse Workers Union. Then, the committee heard yesterday, Shefferman's agents helped to negotiate a contract with the Bakers' Union.

Several witnesses, including one from management, said yesterday that this contract was less favorable from the workers' standpoint than any which the Packinghouse Union would have demanded if it had been successful in organizing the Webster City plant.

They said also that workers at the plant were not consulted in the negotiations between Morton management and the Bakery Workers Union.

"It is perfectly apparent from the evidence," McClellan said today, "that the management knew and I think arranged" for the Shefferman organization to combat the Packers drive then back the Bakers Union. Shefferman specializes in aiding firms having labor troubles.

Cross replied, however, that there was "an entirely different employer" when the Packinghouse workers and bakery organization campaigns were held.

He referred to sale of the Morton Packing Co.—as it then was known—to the Continental Baking Co. shortly after the Packinghouse workers drive was defeated in 1955.

Several months later the Bakery Workers Union organized the plant which then had become Morton Frozen Foods division of Continental Bakers.

Cross insisted he had no direct connection with the Morton plant unionization. He said a contract had been agreed to by George Stewart, regional organizer and former vice president of the union, and George Faunce, vice president of Continental Baking.

Reports Baby Sex Can Be Determined By Electrical Test

LONDON (AP)—A British scientist reported that the sex of human babies can be predetermined by passing the father's seed through an electrical field.

Dr. Sherry Lewin, a biochemist at the South West Essex Technical College, said the method separates the seeds into those containing the male or female factors and gives 80 per cent accuracy.

In experiments which he hopes to finish by 1960, Dr. Lewin is working on a chemical method to produce similar results.

First experiments with the electrical field were conducted on rabbit sperm. The same reaction was achieved with human sperm used in artificial insemination, Dr. Lewin said. Factors in the male sperm, not the female ova, determine sex of the offspring.

Eventually, he said, he hopes to produce chemicals which when taken by the parents will bring about the development of a girl or boy, whichever is desired.

Temperature Drop Forecast for State; Rain in Some Parts

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Decidedly colder weather is moving into Missouri on the heels of heavy rains.

Showers and thunderstorms are expected to continue in the east and north tonight, but in the northwest a cold front will be moving in. Temperatures by morning are expected to be down to 35 to 40 in the extreme northwest. Thursday's highs will be in the 40s northwest to the 50s south-east.

Injunction Signing Is Delayed

Question Is Raised Over the Contents Of Court's Order

Bulletin

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal Judge F. Dickinson Letts ruled today that Teamsters Union bosses conspired to rig their recent union convention. He issued a preliminary injunction against President-elect James R. Hoffa's taking of office, but refused to put the union in receivership.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Signing of an injunction temporarily barring James R. Hoffa from taking over presidency of the Teamsters Union was delayed today by argument over whether the order should also contain broad corruption findings against Hoffa.

U. S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts indicated he would go along with most provisions of an order against Hoffa and the Teamsters, as asked by attorneys for a group of protesting union members.

Teamsters attorneys balked at the scope of the order, which apparently would put the vast union under court receivership and tie up its rich treasury.

Letts continued for the time being his prior temporary restraining order against Hoffa taking of office.

The core of the case is the claim that Hoffa was elected illegally by a rigged union convention.

The restraining order would have expired just before noon had not Letts extended it.

A key question was whether the 82-year-old judge would place the 14-million-member union under court-named masters and tie up its funds as asked by a group of 13 New York members.

Rains Cause More Earth Slides At Site Of New Building

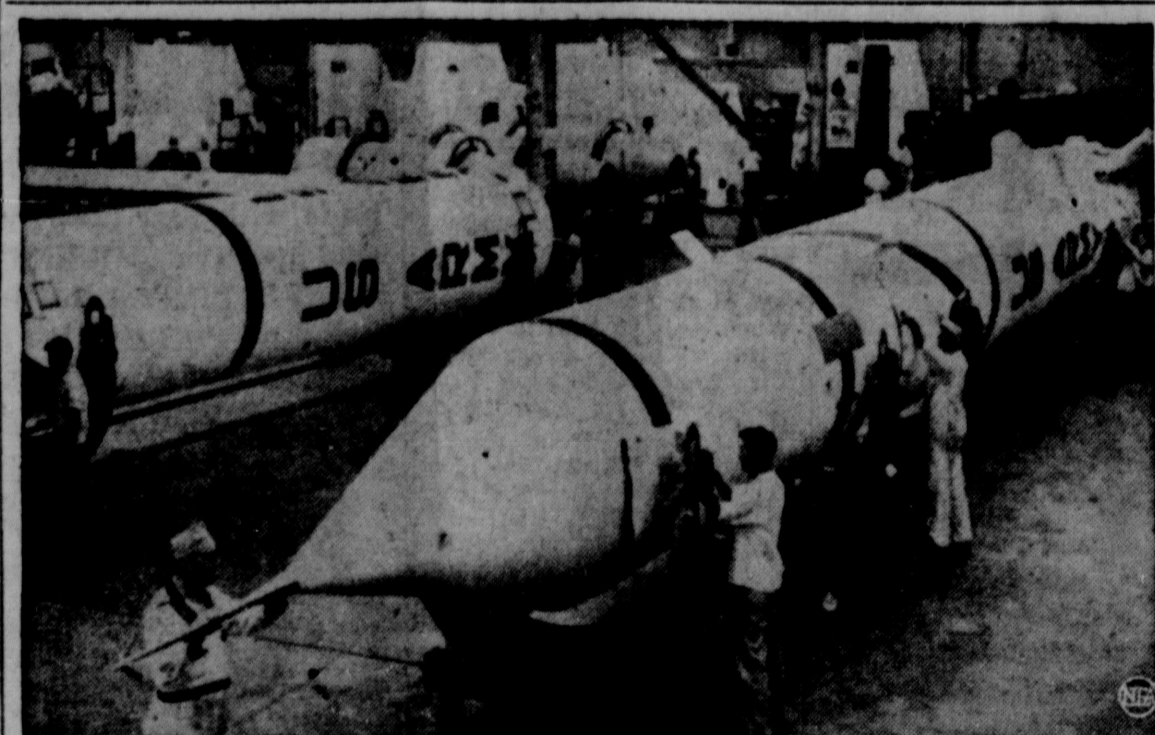

Rain is causing more trouble at the site for the new Sedalia Savings and Loan Association building at Third and Oeage. Moisture received Tuesday and Tuesday night caused more slides.

A sidewalk leading to the house adjacent to the project fell and earth caved in up next to the house at one point. The falling earth and sidewalk resulted in concrete forms buckling.

Workers were busy Wednesday morning correcting the damage to the forms when more rain began.

Residents of the house had previously moved out when the first slides occurred. Movers started taking furniture from the house Wednesday morning and taking it to storage.

Hungarians Plod to Work

No Incident Occurs on First Anniversary of Revolution

VIENNA (AP)—The people of Hungary plodded to work in the rain today under the guns of police and militia on this first anniversary of the anti-Russian revolution.

Traffic moved normally through streets where a year ago revolution exploded from a peaceful demonstration for better living conditions under iron Red rule.

Reports from Budapest said the heaviest concentration of power appeared at Kerepesi Cemetery where many victims of Soviet and Hungarian police guns are buried. Police on foot and horseback patrolled every road around the cemetery and the lanes among the thousands of graves.

The reports said it appeared they were on guard against any mass attempt to commemorate the uprising with pilgrimages to the graves.

Once a little, gray-haired old woman in black made her way to a grave, ignoring the police along the way. She was not molested.

Western embassies in the Soviet satellite capital reported at mid-morning that all appeared normal. Workers appeared to be going to their jobs, students to school.

"All is quiet, all is normal here," said a German-speaking official at Budapest's big Csepel steel works by telephone. The steel plant was the scene of the last ditch stand of Hungarian workers against Russian tanks that crushed the revolt.

Communist leaders have warned repeatedly that they would crush mercilessly any attempt to observe the anniversary publicly, whether with street marches and meetings or even by wearing of black mourning bands.

Premier Janos Kadar, the Communist puppet installed when the Soviet troops smashed the revolt.

GI Housing Project Study Said Needed

Congressman Spence Comments In Wake Of Mortgage Shutout

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Spence (D-Ky.) of the House Banking Committee said today Congress will have to review the entire veterans' housing program as a result of government refusal to make advance mortgage commitments.

The Federal National Mortgage Assn. announced yesterday it no longer will commit itself in advance to purchase new home mortgages bearing the Veterans Administration interest rate of 4 1/2 per cent. FNMA has been buying the mortgages from lenders to supply them with additional loan funds.

It had been giving builders a commitment for a year in advance that it would purchase the mortgages on homes they planned to build.

The agency will continue to buy mortgages presented for sale, but will charge a higher premium. FNMA has been paying the banks from 92 to 94 per cent of the face value of the mortgages. Hereafter the sellers will receive from 90 to 92 per cent of face value. The rate varies by geographical areas, property values and other factors.

FNMA said it had no choice in the matter because it was unsound business to acquire 4 1/2 per cent mortgages when the agency itself must pay almost 5 per cent interest for its financing.

Spence agreed that FNMA's action was justified in view of conditions.

"The veterans' home loan program hasn't been working because nobody is going to put up the money at 4 1/2 per cent," he said. "We will have to review the entire program when Congress comes back in January. It may be that we will have to try to work out some program for direct loans."

Margaret Daniel Will Return to Television

NEW YORK (AP)—Margaret Truman Daniel is going back to television—but she says she isn't going to let it dominate her life. "From now on my TV career will come second. I will not let it interfere with my career as a wife and mother."

Her last appearance on TV was on the Steve Allen Show in May 1956, shortly after her marriage to New York Times staff member Clifton Daniel Jr. A son was born to them last June.

She will return to the NBC network Nov. 14 as the star in a "Matinee Theater" play, "Iris." She will have the role of a marriage-seeking spinster. She expects to go to Hollywood Nov. 7 for rehearsals.

Ike Back to Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower flew back to Washington today from New York for a schedule highlighted by a conference with Prime Minister Macmillan of Britain.

The President had remained overnight at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel after addressing a dinner of the National Fund for Medical Education.

Mrs. Eisenhower, who accompanied him to New York City, remained in her suite at the hotel. She was expected to return to Washington later today.

Move Follows Recognition By Tito of East Germany

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles has decided to suspend the bulk of U.S. aid to Yugoslavia, including jet planes, because of President Tito's recognition of Communist East Germany.

The decision has been discussed with Allies in Western Europe, particularly Britain, but details of its exact application are still being worked out.

Diplomatic authorities said today, however, that it seems certain to have these results at least:

1. A halt in major U.S. arms shipments. The major military aid program, including jet fighter deliveries, was resumed by the United States in May on President Eisenhower's decision after having been shelved for about a year because of congressional objection.

2. Projected negotiations with Yugoslav representatives in Belgrade on a new economic aid program for the fiscal year would be called off.

3. Deliveries of spare parts for American weapons and military machines already supplied very likely will be continued.

State Department officials consider the action against Yugoslavia at this stage to be necessary but not irrevocable. The problem now, they said, is to find out where Tito stands in his relations with Russia and the Western powers and also determine the direction in which he intends to move.

The United States, Britain, and France have been supplying economic and military assistance to Tito since 1949. He broke with Stalinist Russia in 1948. From the United States alone he has received about 1 1/2 billion dollars worth of aid.

Tito recognized the Soviet satellite government of East Germany Oct. 15. The United States first warned that it deplored such a move, and publicly expressed regret at the action afterward. The State Department argued that this tended to build up the prestige of the East German regime and thereby strengthened Soviet policy on German unification.

Tito's action, coming on top of several friendly meetings he has had in the last two years with Soviet Communist party boss Khrushchev raised considerable worry here that he may be following the Soviet line to such a degree that he is no longer to be counted as a neutral.

The New York Herald Tribune said today the State Department decided to suspend temporarily all economic and most military aid to Yugoslavia.

Special guests included Lt. Gov. Edward V. Long, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, several Missouri congressmen and St. Louis Mayor Raymond R. Tucker.

Takes Stand

Strike Called As Protest In Guatemala

Fuentes Supporters Take Action After Police Rout Crowd

GUATEMALA (AP)—Supporters of Gen. Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes, who claim he was robbed of the presidency by fraud in Sunday's election, called a strike today.

The call came after troops broke up a protest demonstration in the capital with tear gas bombs and rifle shots. One woman was killed by a bullet through the head.

Ydigoras' whereabouts were not known. He was last seen Monday night at a demonstration by his supporters.

The army was controlling Guatemala under a 30-day state of siege—a modified form of martial law. The government charged Ydigoras, a Conservative, with heading a subversive movement to gain power illegally with Communist support.

The government party candidate, Miguel Ortiz Passarelli, was listed by his party as the election winner with Ydigoras second.

Eyewitnesses said about 10 shots were fired when soldiers backed by an armored car dispersed the demonstrators last night.

After the crowd scattered soldiers patrolled the streets. At midnight a curfew was imposed.

Leaders of Ydigoras' Democratic National Reconciliation party asked his supporters to stay away from work during the day and to protest noisily in front of their homes at 8 p.m. by exploding firecrackers, beating pans, turning radios to top volume and sounding car horns.

Says Reconnaissance Planes Fly Over Syria And May Be American

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Maj. Gen. Afif Bizry claimed today unidentified reconnaissance planes fly deep over Syria almost daily and expressed belief they were American.

The Syrian army chief of staff told a news conference that planes fly over the city of Homs, about 100 miles from Damascus.

"We believe planes are not coming from Turkey, but from the U. S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean because this fleet is working together with the massing of Turkish troops on the Syrian border."

Name Is Password

NEW YORK (AP)—A Tacoma, Wash., lawyer was stopped by a Secret Service agent yesterday as he left an elevator on the 28th floor of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower were lodged in a suite on the floor. "What's your name?" the agent asked the lawyer.

"Eisenhower," the lawyer answered.

James C. Hagerty, the President's press secretary, whirled about and said, "Hello, Edgar, I didn't know you were in town." The President's brother told Hagerty he was in New York on private business, unaware until yesterday that the President would be in the city.

'Wittiest Man' Believes US Ill of Decay of Funny Bone

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—S. J. Perelman, regarded by many as the wittiest man alive, believes America's greatest medical problem isn't hardening of the arteries—it's decay of the funny bone. "Humor writing today?" he said. "I just don't see much of it around."
"The immensity of life is a deterrent. Everything today has assumed such a terrific shape and size it dwarfs the individual and his point of view."
"The movies and television also have siphoned off a lot of possible humorists who became anonymous gag writers. They might have had a viewpoint or an identity, but instead they became part of a six-man team. They are paid well, but their work has no permanence."

A raffish Socrates who looks and talks a bit like Groucho Marx—as a matter of fact, he wrote two early Marx brothers movies—Perelman broke into the chuckle industry during the turbulent 1920s, the era of such men as John Held Jr., and Robert Benchley.
"We all starved together," he said. "But there was a tremendous amount of gusto in living in those days."
"But, like everybody else, I went on the auction block."
Since leaving Brown University, Perelman has turned out some 15 books and plays, more than 200 humorous skits for the New Yorker magazine, and innumerable movies.

A man who looks with skepticism on everything in life except the messages he finds in Chinese cookies ("these I accept literally"), Perelman said every young writer begins his career as a thief.

"He has to be," he said, "that is, in the sense he has to read and digest the work of good men who have gone before. Then he has to demonstrate his skill by turning out varnished pieces done so well they show no trace of the sources they sprang from."

"I must say I myself have stolen only from good men," Perelman now lives in a 117-year-old stone house on an 83-acre farm in Bucks County, Pa., complete with a mortgage, high weeds "and a slough of despond."

What does he believe is the funniest thing in the world?

"The spectacle of a middle-aged man trying to earn his living."

And the saddest?

"The same thing," he said. "But I wouldn't want to be thought cynical. I suppose you might say I was an idealist, but just say it—and you'll get a blow on the mouth."

Like all writers, Perelman suffers from insomnia, and he cures sleeplessness by murmuring over and over his favorite sentence in contemporary literature:

"There were rainbow roses on Mosely Mason's dresser this morning."

The source?

"It's the opening line from an unpublished novel—although why it's unpublished beats me," said Perelman. "It's better than Milton."

Beta Sigma Phi Has Hallowe'en Party Monday

The City Council of Beta Sigma Phi sponsored a Hallowe'en party for the four chapters Monday night at the home of Mrs. Margaret Dougherty. Co-hostesses were Mrs. June Flippin, Mrs. Bette Padgett, Mrs. Melissa McClung, Mrs. Mary Sawyer, Mrs. Evelyn Newton, Mrs. Rosalie Edwards and Miss Pat Fisher.

The guests followed a rope from the front door, around trees, bushes, over tables and through a long tunnel before reaching the back door where a large ghost stood. Several live ghosts were also roaming around in the back yard. The guests were registered by Mrs. Padgett and escorted one at a time to the basement and presented to the Queen of Hallowe'en, who was seated on a throne of baled hay. Corn stalks, leaves and Hallowe'en cutouts decorated the basement. The refreshment table was centered with a large pumpkin and autumn leaves. Small jack o'lanterns completed the table decorations.

As the guests paraded about the room they were judged by Mrs. Padgett, Mrs. Newton, Miss Fisher and Mrs. Flippin. Mrs. Joan Insko received the prize for being the prettiest and honorable mention went to Mrs. Melissa McClung and Mrs. Betty Landon. Mrs. Phyllis Howard won the prize for the most original costume and Mrs. Marilyn VanHorn and Mrs. Rosemary Cummings received honorable mention. The funniest masquerader was Mrs. Laura Beatty with honorable mention going to Mrs. Judy Clement and Mrs. Joan Moore.

Service Held In Memorium At Otterville

The closing program for the Otterville Centennial celebration was a memorial service held at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Otterville 100th Cemetery. The program was planned and conducted by the George Clark Harlan Post 84, American Legion. Roy Armstrong is post commander. The audience of 150 persons including many from out of town assembled near the grave of George Clark Harlan, for whom the post is named. He was the first serviceman from the Otterville community to die while in the service of his country during World War I.

Members of the Post took their positions under the orders of Jake Marcom. The detachment included two flag bearers, Leo J. Smith and Roy Shoe, two color guards, Dan Glenn and Lloyd Speaker; a firing squad composed of Virgil Meuer, Cleo Maness, Walter Castle and Glen Gant and the following in line formation, L. A. Bane, K. H. Morris, J. H. Brooks, J. H. Parsons, F. L. Cole, W. A. Walls, Dick Baker, John Kuykendall, Monroe Neal, J. E. Page, Ed Shutt and John Glenn.

Following the placing of the American flag members of the Auxiliary sang the national anthem. The memorial prayer was led by the chaplain, Rev. Earl Swafford. Mrs. Donald Zumsteg and Delbert Lenger played a trumpet duet, "America the Beautiful." The post commander presented the Rev. Farrie L. Cole Jr., who gave the memorial address.

Following a salute by the commander to the dead and a salute to the firing squad, taps were sounded and the military detachment retired. Buglers were Mrs. Zumsteg and Delbert Lenger.

Preceding the service American flags were placed on the grave of each veteran.

FT. BRUCKNER, Okinawa (AP)—Okinawa was alerted today for Typhoon Judy, expected to hit the island and its big U.S. base within 48 hours. The storm was located 900 miles southeast of Okinawa, with center winds of 144 miles per hour and gusts up to 195 m.p.h.

Reports Airman Shot Youth While Hunting

SEOUL (AP)—The U.S. Air Force announced today that an American airman shot and slightly wounded a Korean youth in a hunting accident near Kangnung, on the east coast of Korea.

It was the fourth shooting of a Korean by an American this month. The other three were killed, two by soldiers guarding U.S. supplies, Korean feeling ran high for a time but has eased.

The Air Force said Airman William Collman of the 6122nd Tactical Air Command Control Group slipped and fell while hunting pheasants yesterday and accidentally fired his shotgun.

Some of the pellets struck Kim Chong Shik, 18, in the cheek and body. Fifteen pellets were removed at a hospital and he was released in good condition, the announcement reported.

Police Guard Meet Delegates From Bombings

SAIGON (AP)—Strongly reinforced police took a firm grip on Saigon today, guarding Americans and delegates to a 21-nation Asian aid conference against further terrorist bombings. Time bombs yesterday injured 13 U.S. servicemen and five Asians and blew a hole in the U.S. Information Agency library.

The police force—ordinarily about 8,000 men—was increased to 14,000. All major intersections and residential areas were under special guard.

Armed escorts accompanied each ranking delegate to the Colombo Plan conference, which has drawn more than 200 foreign representatives to Saigon.

President Ngo Dinh Diem's anti-Communist South Viet Nam government reacted swiftly to the bombings, which diplomatic sources said apparently were intended to embarrass him.

Suspects were rounded up as Diem expressed regrets for the violence.

Washington officials attributed the explosions to Communist agents.

The bomb blasted an American military bus and hostel as well as the library. Eight of the 13 injured U.S. servicemen were flown to Clark Field hospital in Manila. A U.S. Air Force spokesman there said none were hurt critically and all should be able to return to duty without permanent injuries.

Judge Rules Magazines To Be Retried

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A move by opposing sides apparently has failed to sidetrack a scheduled public retrial of criminal libel conspiracy charges against Confidential magazine.

The plan, spearheaded by Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown and defense attorney Arthur Crowley, was turned down by Superior Judge Herb Walker. It was announced yesterday.

After the in-chambers conference with Judge Walker, Brown said he still had hope that a new trial could be avoided because "to play this record for a second time is repugnant to me."

After eight weeks of sensational testimony, the first trial ended in a hung jury last Oct. 1. The new trial is set for Nov. 20.

Tried were Confidential and Whisper magazines, Publishers Distributing Corp., Fred and Marjorie Meade, and their Hollywood Research, Inc., an information gathering agency.

The attorney general said he proposed submitting the case of the two magazines to the judge on a transcript of the first trial, dismissing the charges against the Meades and others, which would include Confidential magazine publisher Robert Harrison.

Brown said he told Judge Walker he would make such a motion—if he would entertain it—for two reasons: first, he did not want to see "all that smut reiterated"; and, second, he was having trouble extrajudging Harrison. "We feel it is not right to try the people

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

here unless Harrison is with them," Brown said.

But Judge Walker said he would not entertain such a motion, Brown reported. He quoted the judge as saying he felt it was not in the interest of justice.

Brown said his proposal also would include an agreement by Confidential and Whisper magazines to "go out of the gossip business entirely."

He said the magazines proposed to change their format entirely, announcing the change with newspaper ads.

British Press Wants Change For Queen

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth's return from her triumphal visit to Canada and the United States spurred new press demands today for a lowering of the barriers between the royal family and the people of Britain.

"Why did she have to cross the Atlantic to become real?" demanded the Laborite Daily Herald in a front-page editorial headed "Don't Put the Queen Behind Bars."

"People here have been reading of the Queen strolling through the street in Washington. The Queen walking into a self-service store, chatting to salesgirls and customers."

"The Queen going about freely among ordinary people, behaving like a natural person. The Queen meeting American reporters at a press conference. The Queen just a glamorous woman on TV. 'Canada loves it. America was bowled over by it. Why is it not allowed to happen here?'"

The Herald complained that as soon as the monarch's plane touched down at London Airport, "we were back in the overblown grip of precautions to keep public well away."

"We are sure that the British people would like the Queen in America better than the Queen in England, the way she is stage-managed for us," it said.

The Liberal News Chronicle asserted editorially: "The time has come for a modification of some of the traditional palace views on public events."

"Nobody wants the Queen or royal family to be victims of blatantly contrived situations just to make them seem 'holy,'" the News Chronicle said. "The monarchy must in a sense be apart from the people just as it is outside politics. But a good deal of protocol needs revision."

Policeman Dies After Capture of Robber At Service Station

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A 51-year-old police lieutenant died of an apparent heart attack last night shortly after he and a fellow officer fought and captured a man surprised in the robbery of a service station.

The victim was Thomas Sanderson, 51, of suburban Edgewood. Patrolman Robert Miller said he and Sanderson, acting on an anonymous tip, went to a service station where a holdup was reported. The officers saw a man identified as Frank Silvasy, 32, North Braddock, Pa., binding the owner of the service station, Michael Sandulak, with tape.

Miller said he and Sanderson pounced on Silvasy, who was armed with an automatic pistol. He added that Sanderson was kicked in the chest by Silvasy.

The officers took Silvasy to the police station and booked him on an armed robbery charge. Then Sanderson collapsed and died. Miller said Silvasy was carrying $84, his loot in the holdup.

Needs Help Against Reds

Information Officer Tells Optimists of Burma Crisis

Lt. Col. Robert Cassidy, information service officer at Whiteman Air Force Base, came to Whiteman from Burma where he was stationed two years, and it was of this country and its problems that he spoke to Optimist Club Tuesday noon at Bothwell Hotel.

Burman said Col. Cassidy, is a new independent republic located halfway around the world from here. It has 19 million people ranging from a very highly cultured class to head-hunting tribes. For about 700 years, he said, Burma was an independent nation but in 1850 it was taken over and ruled by the British. In 1948 the Burmese gained their independence.

There are about 196 dialects spoken in this country which is about the size of Texas. It has a Marxist-socialist form of government. The location is India and Pakistan on the west, Thailand on the east and about 1,000 miles border with Red China on the north.

The only agriculture crop produced in Burma is rice. Col. Cassidy said, and it has a surplus agricultural economy. The United States has also a surplus of rice; England and France don't use it, he explained, so the only product has is not wanted by the Western countries. Who does use rice? Red Communist China, he pointed out.

Col. Cassidy went on to say that Burma has no industries, either. They purchase everything they have a use for. But to buy from Burma takes foreign exchange. We can't buy it but Red China can.

Russia, Cassidy continued, can't use rice either. They eat very little rice but they have told Burma we will buy all you can produce. This is not a money exchange, however, he said, it is a barter. The Burmese cannot buy what they want but receive in payment for the rice certain commodities. The country is becoming more and more Communist.

Burma, he said, has alleged it is neutral and will try to continue to be. It has done its best.

Burma is a small country, but every time a country goes Communist, Col. Cassidy said, the Western world gets a little bit weaker and the Communists a little bit stronger. The taxpayers' dollars go into foreign aid, and you don't like to pay taxes any more than I do, he told the group, but if we don't do something to change the crops in that country or build up industry there so there will be something for foreign exchange we will lose it by default. While it goes, he warned, democracy becomes a little weaker and communism becomes a little stronger.

Col. Cassidy was introduced by the program chairman, Harry Trotman.

The meeting was presided over by Claude L. Boul, president, with invocation by the Rev. James Schroeder, assistant pastor of the Sacred Heart Church. Singing was led by Charles Hanna with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano.

Sarnoff Says Pay-TV Peril To Enterprise

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Robert W. Sarnoff, president of the National Broadcasting Co., said today pay-television can succeed only by "devouring the substance of free television."

Sarnoff said NBC is convinced pay-TV is against the public interest.

"Of course," he added, "this view may not prevail and the pressures behind pay-TV may succeed in putting it over on the public." He continued: "If it does eventually develop as the replacement for free broadcasting, we, like the public, will have no choice but to follow the pay-TV tide."

The NBC president's remarks were contained in a speech prepared for delivery to a luncheon given in his honor by William Block, publisher of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, at the Duquesne Club. The Post-Gazette owns WICB, NBC's new TV affiliate here.

Pay-TV, Sarnoff said, "could ultimately sweep away the nation's free broadcasting system." He said the system includes 400 TV stations and three national TV networks.

This prospect, he said, "shocks me."

The Federal Communications Commission announced Oct. 17 that a proposed public trial of subscription TV will be limited to cities having top-quality TV service from at least four stations.

The FCC said it will accept applications by stations to take part in demonstrations, but it affirmed its previous tentative decision not to issue permit for trials before next March 1.

Several companies have developed a subscription service system.

The FCC said it was prepared to authorize demonstration of any system which would not interfere with other radio service or lower the quality of standard TV.

Syrians Begin Organization Of Guerrillas

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — A group of men, rifles in hand, dived to the ground at a given signal, sprawled on their stomachs and began firing in a partially completed football stadium.

This was the scene today at one training center for Syria's Popular Resistance organization — a movement composed of tens of thousands of civilians in the Arab nation's "irregular army."

The organization has moved into high gear since tension increased over Turkish troop concentrations on the Syrian border.

Some 400 civilian volunteers turned up for the football-field firing practice not far from the heart of Damascus. Many were youngsters who looked as if they had just entered their teens. Some wore the PR uniform — olive green coveralls — but most were in street clothes.

They fired at 28 targets with whatever weapons were available, mostly old French rifles.

The scene was typical of what is happening throughout Syria. In Damascus, Aleppo, Homs and Latakia — all key cities — members of the resistance organization are receiving battle instruction for the "sacred self-protection" of Syria.

They are being trained for street fighting. Weapons are being distributed in various cities. The army chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Afif Bizry, has called on the volunteers to wage relentless guerrilla warfare in the event of an invasion.

The popular resistance organization is headed by Bizry's brother Col. Salah Bizry.

One of the Damascus group, 15-year-old Fathi Attack, said he joined the movement to "defend the Arab homeland which extends from the Atlantic to the Arab (Persian) Gulf."

Does he believe the Turks will attack Syria? "Yes," said Fathi. Why? "Because they are massing troops on our border."

Test Missile Lights Sky Over Florida

MISSILE TEST CENTER, Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP) — A Jupiter rocket soared skyward last night in a spectacular and successful test of the Army's intermediate range ballistic missile.

The missile, designed to travel 1,500 miles, was reported officially to have taken its prescribed course and landed in its preselected target area. It was the first time the Defense Department had identified a missile fired from here or had given an immediate report on the outcome of a test.

The Pentagon, however, would not reveal how far the Jupiter had traveled. A spokesman said that still is secret information.

The mighty missile trailed a long oval flame which lighted up the Cape Canaveral area. Minutes after the launching the Miami Herald, 200 miles to the south, was flooded with calls from residents who said they saw it pass overhead.

There still was no word on when the scheduled test of the Navy's Vanguard missile will take place. The three-stage rocket, intended to carry a U.S. earth satellite into space, is due for a tryout of its first-stage engine. High winds apparently have caused postponements of the test.

Yesterday's Jupiter test was the second of the day. A small missile was launched during daylight hours but authorities have declined to give any information about it beyond that it was not

The Lesson Of Sputnik

In the sputtering wake of "Sputnik," the Russian moon, many have said that the Soviet Union's achievement could prove a blessing in disguise for America.

Some declare this shows forcefully how laggard is our training of scientists and engineers, not to mention others.

Walter Lippman sees it as evidence of the damage done by a curious double standard applied in the United States. He believes we demand the best for ourselves as individuals, yet actually starve our schools and other vital public institutions.

Those who think "Sputnik" may be a blessing hope that it will shock us into facing our shortcomings, and shake us out of unending smugness and complacency over our alleged massive superiority as a people.

No question of it, most Americans imagine that nearly everything American is the best, whatever the field of endeavor.

Our very great achievements in many realms are pyramided upon a base of rich material resources and set with in a broad, fortunate climate of freedom. Too often we tend to forget how much we owe to the "luck of the draw" that gave us these riches and the liberty to develop them as we wished.

We have no monopoly upon scientific genius, or any other kind, for that matter. There is no point here in attempting to catalogue the accomplishments of other peoples in various technical fields. They are legion. A good deal that we are proud of we have borrowed in the first instance.

We will not win the race for supremacy in science, for military survival in competition with hostile communism, if we do not acknowledge that we do not enjoy an inherited superiority over others.

We can hold our own or win out in the great human competition only as we approach our tasks with humility, with full recognition of the very substantial and often surpassing talents of others.

There are many wonderful advantages in being an American. But being born great is not one of them. Just like anybody else on earth, we have to earn greatness and not smugly assume we have it.

If we do not humbly labor for it, it will slip away and pass to others. That, perhaps, is the overriding lesson of "Sputnik."

Anglo-American Relations Improving

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — To get an idea of how much Anglo-American relations have improved as a result of the celestial visit of Sputnik, the royal visit of Elizabeth, and the political visit of Prime Minister MacMillan, you need to go back to the Suez crisis just one year ago when John Foster Dulles was in Walter Reed Hospital for cancer surgery.

Prior to his illness, Dulles had been dickering back and forth with London regarding the operation and payment of tolls through the canal. He had been first on the British side, then on Nasser's side, had proposed a ship-users' association, then opposed his own proposal. The British were disgusted, especially Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

On top of this, and after British and French troops followed the Israeli army into Suez, the United States had made blunt, blistering demands that the three armies get out. In the case of the British, the demand was made by Eisenhower himself, using what was described as barrack-room language on the Transatlantic telephone direct to Anthony Eden. It contributed to Eden's subsequent resignation as Prime Minister a few weeks later.

Probably not since 1865 and the Civil War had relations between England and the United States sunk so low.

Almost at the height of this crisis, just after the British-French-Israelis had agreed to a cease-fire, Foreign Secretary Lloyd paid a courtesy call on the recuperating Dulles. Lloyd was in New York for the United Nations, and, though almost loathing Dulles, he felt he should call on the American Secretary of State.

As Lloyd entered the hospital room, Dulles held out his hand and said: "Selwyn, why did the British wait so long to go into Suez? Why didn't you go through with it?"

Lloyd was speechless.

In contrast to earlier days, the British Foreign Secretary last week referred to the American Secretary of State as "Foster." In his voice was a note of warmth and even friendship.

It's amazing what a little red moon can do as it zips across Anglo-American skies.

Arrested In Moscow
Reps. Mel Price, Illinois Democrat, and Jim Patterson, Connecticut Republican, are probably the first members of the U. S. Congress to be arrested by the Soviet government.

Recently they were driving down a Moscow street which was restricted, when a policeman took them in. He didn't know who they were and was a little embarrassed when he found they were United States Congressmen. However, he held them in violation of a traffic law, and they deposited three rubles, for which they got receipts.

Afterward, Moscow authorities offered to repay the three rubles and secure return of the receipts. The Congressmen refused.

"It's the best souvenir I ever had," Patterson remarked.

Note — In Stockholm, Patterson, Price, and Van Zandt of Pennsylvania picked up evidence, they said, that the Russians had a spy among Congressional employees on Capitol Hill.

MacMillan And Eisenhower
Here are some of the things Foreign Minister Lloyd of England discussed with Secretary of State Dulles in their three-hour talk during the Queen's visit, and which also will be discussed by Prime Minister MacMillan:

The Near East is No. 1 on the Agenda. Lloyd told Dulles he was convinced Moscow would not wage any outright war in the Arab states, that Khrushchev had actually warned Syria not to attack Israel. The situation is made to order from a psychological viewpoint for the Russians to point the finger of guilt at Turkey and claim Moscow is the protector of the Arab peoples. The Kremlin, according to Lloyd, doesn't want to change this.

Nikita Khrushchev — The British regard him as much more dangerous than Stalin and Molotov, and have told this to Dulles. He is inclined to agree. Stalin, though brutal, was cautious in his relations with the United States. Molotov could be bitter, but was equally cautious. Of course, neither of them had the ICBM. Khrushchev, however, is unpredictable. For one thing, he drinks far too much. Both Dulles and Lloyd are convinced he doesn't want war, but they are also afraid he is so over-confident that he might overstep. Lloyd feels Khrushchev will use the ICBM and Sputnik to win psychological victories without firing a shot, just as Hitler did in the Ruhr, Rhineland, Austria, and Czechoslovakia.

U.S. - UK Scientific Cooperation — Prime Minister MacMillan won't push this. Privately, the British and French have pushed it for some time, but the White House has always been cool. Then out of the clear blue last week, in toasting the Queen, Eisenhower proposed exactly what the British-French had been urging — Allied scientific cooperation.

MacMillan now regards this as won; years there will be a bad reaction in Congress later if he says much about it now. There will be a tightening of the Anglo-American alliance in other directions. Any talk that the British will set up a neutral buffer state between the United States and Russia is out. Lloyd made it clear that the place of the UK is alongside the USA in any international showdowns. There will be a big announcement of firm, future solidarity.

Colonel Nasser — Lloyd has expressed the view to Dulles that Col. Nasser isn't happy about Russian penetration of Egypt and would like to get back into the good graces of the West. Economic sanctions have hurt Egypt badly. Some of Dulles's advisers have been saying the same thing. Just how often they will be burnt by Nasser remains to be seen.

Think It Through

—By E. F. Hutton

EQUALITY AMONG GOONS — The "federalization" of the National Guard, or militia, of Arkansas, is a hot commentary on the idea that if Uncle subsidizes the public schools, he will never, oh never, control them!

In his first telegram to Governor Faubus, the President reminded him that Uncle was paying for the Guards' uniforms, arms and equipment. Now see who has them!

Arkansas and the other States should have raised their own tax-money to equip their own militia, rather than let Uncle tax them to do the same thing.

For, as the Supreme Court has said with respect to Federal aid for farmers, it is hardly unconstitutional for Uncle to control whatever he subsidizes.

It is true, of course, that even if the militia were equipped by each State, it may be temporarily called into Federal service to "suppress insurrections." But if the acts of hoodlums in one city constitute an "insurrection," then what shall we say of dynamiting in telephone, railroad and shipping strikes which obstruct the commerce of several States, or of the nation, itself? Uncle never treats these goons as insurrectionists.

The Constitution says that Uncle shall protect the States from "domestic violence" but only when the State Legislature or the Governor asks Uncle for help.

If we are to have "equal protection of the law" against goons, without a request from the State Legislature or Governor, let's either have it against all goons, or none.

Alexander's World

Archaeologists have unearthed rare mosaic compositions, Ionian columns and other forms of craftsmanship in Pella, Greece, the birthplace of Alexander the Great.

A goatherd who wished to enlarge the cellar of his house came upon a fragment of an Ionian column when he was digging under his house. This led to the present diggings under the direction of the Bureau of Antiquities located in Salonika which is about 25 miles from Pella, the former capital of the Hellenic World under King Philip and his son Alexander.

On the plain where once Alexander's famous horse Bucephalus trod, there is today rich agricultural land which produces tobacco, cotton and wheat.

The excavation project provides interesting historic ruins and gives employment to modern Greeks as well as scientists from other lands.

The archaeologists dig up the mosaics of King Philip's old palace but the fields are to be saved to feed the modern Greeks.

As Queen Passed By, the Market Sagged

By ED CREAHER
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Queen Elizabeth probably didn't notice it on her trip through New York's financial district the other day, but Wall Street was having one of its every-now-and-then nervous breakdowns.

The hired help were happily showering ticker tape on Her Majesty but their bosses were selling stock. They still are—though a good many are buying it also. While the Queen was passing by, something like five billion dollars in stock value was going out the window like so much ticker tape. And the next day the market hit its lowest average in more than 2½ years.

Nobody is blaming the Queen for any of this. She just happened to be riding past when it was happening. Most Americans were watching her, or the pictures of her, instead of that complicated big board in the stock exchange. Quite naturally. She's much prettier. And the board was a sad sight by anybody's reckoning that day.

But now that all the paper streamers have been swept up, the word is about that the market has sagged. This means that any stock you own probably is worth less today than it was at the beginning of that mournful Monday in the money mart. What it means in terms of the national economy is something the experts are debating.

There seems no reason to press the panic button, however. The stock market is notoriously neurotic, as given to fits of tempera-

Russians Didn't Boggle With German Scientists

By Joseph A. Dear
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — The very real and immediate danger of Sputnik lies in the influence it may have on that hard drinking babbler, Boss Khrushchev of the Kremlin.

Over the past dozen years Russia has played a risky and aggressive game. Yet at the start the Reds hardly had chips enough to back their play, for it was not until 1949 that they got the A-bomb.

No doubt about it, Russia was over its head. But Stalin & Company never flinched. And because they were rarely called, they collected. The frontiers of communism expanded.

Today Russia can back its plays. It has the H-bomb. It has prototype intercontinental ballistic missiles that work, and we do not. It has launched a man-made moon, that now circles the earth, and we have not.

It would be very natural and human if Khrushchev decided the relatively improved status of his country justified a pushier foreign policy. After all, Stalin had less and got away with murder.

It would be natural and human of Khrushchev to think along these lines. Also it would be tragic. For United States will have to call. We can't afford to lose another pot by default.

It is quite desirable, therefore, that Khrushchev be brought to realize that United States has no intention of accepting any second rate role. Fortunately, we have the industrial and scientific capacity to make that dramatically clear.

We have had this capacity all along. But we haven't capitalized on our capabilities. These are the reasons:

1. Complacency. We just couldn't bring ourselves to believe that a nation as backward as Russia could duplicate our atomic effort. Except through espionage.
2. Preoccupation with spying:

Because we underestimated Russia's scientific capability, we over-emphasized negative security.

That is, we were more concerned with protecting the "secrets" we had than in learning new "secrets." We slighted the obvious fact that positive security is achieved through progress.

Thus an arm of the government decided that the employment of J. Robert Oppenheimer, wartime director at Los Alamos, was not "clearly consistent with the interests of national security." To this day a considerable proportion of the scientific community chokes when that decision is recalled.

If Oppenheimer employment was not clearly consistent with the interests of national security, neither was his separation. For a mighty brain was lost.

The Russians, incidentally, do not boggle at such problems. After the war, they scooped in thousands of German scientists whose loyalty to the Russian regime certainly was questionable. These Germans contributed to the Russian rocketry program. The gamble ultimately paid off in ICBMs.

3. Budget "First: Generally you get what you pay for. And we simply haven't been footing the bill for research. For example, the Pentagon hasn't let a new research contract this fiscal year.

At his last press conference Ike said we spend $5.2 billion yearly on research and development. Two points must be made: The Administration has ordered a spending slowdown to hold the budget line. The Army is trimming divisions, the Navy mothballing ships, the Air Forces dropping wings, and research has felt the economy bite too.

But the Russians are pushing ahead. It is estimated they have spent more than $15 billion on their missile program alone.

Anything they can do we can do better. And we HAD better.

The Mature Parent

What Happened to Happy Summer Childhood Days?

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence

Well, Johnny's been home from camp now for a while.

He learned how to make leather wallets, "group adjustment" and the right names of the stones and butterflies he collected. And every now and then he still sings, "Oh, Camp Minnetonka, we'll never forget your happy summer days!"

But once there was another kind of "happy summer days."

"When I was a kid," writes a man who knows about them, "you watered the lawn. You watered it by standing there and holding the hose and spraying it back and forth. In arcs and fountains and in figure eights and straight up in the air, energetically and dreamily and absentmindedly, washing the walk and the porch and the window screen and your father in the living room reading the paper."

His name is Robert Paul Smith and I love his book which is called "Where Are You Going? Out." Because it reminds us that childhoods were once lived in this country uncontaminated by adult eagerness to improve upon them. I hope you read it. After you've done chucking, you'll maybe just sit in your chair, thinking.

In Smith's happy summer days, you could collect lightning bugs in jelly glasses. Or sit on the back porch concocting a milk bottle mixture that included licorice, ketchup, milk and rubber bands, finding its taste more deeply satisfying than any soda pop ever invented. You watched ants' nests. You sailed twigs down rainfilled gutters. You split and broke twigs in half.

You sat in boxes and under porches; on roofs and the limbs of trees. You stood on boards over excavations, under rain dripping from eaves. You looked at knives and immies and grasshoppers and clouds and dogs and people. You skipped and hopped and jumped. You sang and whistled, hummed and screamed.

"What I mean, Jack," says Smith, "we did a lot of nothing."

In my book, too, that's the recipe for happy childhood summer days.

Is it the move to the cities and well-barbered suburbs that's ended them?

Not really, I think. I think they ended the day we go so scared Johnny would be maladjusted we decided to leave him a minute alone with himself.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
Many calendars show Sundays and holidays in red ink, while the normal workdays are printed in black. Is this because Sundays and holidays are the nonproductive days of our lives? Is it because the days are wasted and could not be considered as showing much gain, much profit or much advancement?

Although scores of people may not show much benefit from these red days on the calendar, this is not true for a large portion of the nation. To those who worship and who follow God's will these days are "red letter days." They are outstanding as days of fellowship with God. They are the days when folk can devote their full attention to filling up their souls and to listening to the guiding voice of their Father.

Would that all of us might fill the "red letter days" of our calendars with joy and peace and love which comes from full fellowship with the Giver of assets far greater than money! There could then be no thought of our going "in the red" on Sunday.

Ike Plans Talk Series On His Views

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower will go directly to the American people in a series of talks to proclaim anew his faith that the free world will prevail against communism in this outer space age.

The President's plans for perhaps half a dozen speeches in various sections of the country in the next few weeks were disclosed as he told a nationwide radio audience last night he intends to seek opportunities to set forth his views in these critical times.

Speaking before 1,500 applauding guests at a Waldorf-Astoria Hotel dinner sponsored by the National Fund for Medical Education, Eisenhower dealt mainly with a need for money to train more doctors and other medical personnel and to expand health facilities.

He revised his prepared text shortly before he spoke to assert solemnly that he also had other problems on his mind, and that he plans to discuss them in the weeks ahead.

He put it this way against the background of Russia's progress in the satellite and the long-range ballistic missile fields:

"They include the continuing endeavor of our people in the fields of scientific achievement—and the methods for attaining even greater achievements, our responsibilities and our opportunities abroad, the strength of our domestic economy, the character and power of our defense programs, and the right of our people to confidence in these strengths."

"I have unshakable faith in the capacity of informed, free citizens to solve every problem involved," he said.

Departing from his prepared text, the President said further to a round of applause at that point: "If I may be able, in these talks, to set out in proper perspective the truth and the facts of these matters, no time consumed will be too much, no personal inconvenience too great."

The President provided no detail regarding his plans. But aides said he will make perhaps as many as half a dozen speeches, some of them outside of Washington. The first, most likely dealing with the nation's science programs, is expected soon.

The talks probably will continue into the early weeks of next year. The administration has been sharply criticized by some members of Congress who feel the satellite and missile programs have not been pushed vigorously enough.

Eisenhower's plans to speak out underscore his determination, aides said, to reiterate his stated belief that the free world can outdo the world of communism.

The meat of a hippopotamus is good to eat, tasting something like beef. Plenty for leftovers.

Northwest Gets Touch of Winter With Heavy Snow

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The season's heaviest snow and coldest weather gave a wintry touch to Northwest sections of the country today.

More rain fell across broad areas of the country, with severe storms in sections of the Southwest. Only a few parts of the nation reported clear skies. Temperatures dipped to near zero in the snow belt in parts of Montana. Weather forecasters predicted snow amounts ranging up to 20 inches in the mountain areas. Cold air extended from the extreme northwest part of the Great Lakes region through the Dakotas, Montana and eastern Washington. It headed southward and was expected to nip Kansas during the day. Temperatures were near 40 near the leading edge of the cold air but dropped into the 20s or lower

Indian Chief Will Wrestle Here Tuesday

The colorful Seminole Indian, Chief Lone Eagle, will make his debut in the Sedalia wrestling ring next Tuesday night when he goes against the toughest competition in these parts, "trial horse" Joe Dusek. They will meet in the semi-final event, a one-fall, 30-minute time limit match.

Chief Lone Eagle is probably the greatest Indian athlete in professional sport today and among his press clippings a variety of sports that he has competed in include basketball, boxing, track and ice hockey. As a wrestler Lone Eagle has been more than successful and holds victories over many of the games best names. In his match against Joe Dusek, the Indian chief will be facing his acid test and Dusek is known as a "spoiler" who has stopped many a young potential star from reaching the top of the ladder.

Bad Boy Rip Hawk returns to the local mat wars after a successful tour of Texas and the south, where he was able to win the Texas State Hawk in the rough-house mat style, referred to as Texas rule wrestling. The Hawk will be going all out to stop the winning streak of local favorite Red McIntyre, who last match defeated the much hated Ike Eakins. If Red can continue his winning streak, he should be in line for a Championship match in the near future and only Rip Hawk stands in his way. Since the semi-final and Main Event will be so hotly contested, promoter Gust Karras has assigned former World Champion Bobby Bruns to referee the matches. Bruns has appeared here many times as a wrestler but this will be his first assignment in Sedalia as a referee.

The semi-final bout, a 2 out of 3 fall affair, with Thor Hagen the number one title claimant meeting frowning Emil Dusek should provide all of the action and fireworks necessary to steal the show. Emil Dusek and brother Ernie hold the World Tag Team Title and like their third brother Joe, these boys know all of the tricks of the game are never at a loss to pull new, though sometime illegal tricks out of the bag. Hagen on the other hand along with Red McIntyre, rates the tops when it comes to handling roughnecks so both Duseks should be in for a rough night.

Which Is Worse, Experiencing Flu Symptoms or Grid Upsets?

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP)—Oh, me. . . Oh, my. Which is worse, flu or football upsets? But nothing can make you feel worse than missing 21 of 44 college football decisions the week previous.

That's a measly 523 average compared with the season's take of 779. . . Oh, well. . .

This week's picks are:
Oklahoma over Colorado: The Buffaloes always give Oklahoma their toughest league tussle, but not even the flu can stop the Sooners.

Texas A&M over Baylor: From September on, everyone knew this was going to be the title fracas in the Southwest Conference but the Twelfth Man (the Cadets' cheering section) gives the Aggies the edge.

Iowa over Northwestern: The Hawkeyes have the best defensive line in the Big Ten.

Duke over North Carolina State: Wray Carlton is the difference.

Auburn over Houston: If Auburn spends too much time remembering the results of Saturday's battle with Georgia Tech, the Plainsmen could lose.

Notre Dame over Pittsburgh: The Irish have had two weeks to recover from the excitement of beating Army. The Panther attack lacks scoring punch.

Michigan State over Illinois: Lightning doesn't strike twice in one season.

Army over Virginia: What do the Cadets care if the Virginia football is an honest-to-goodness Persian Prince?

Minnesota over Michigan: Possibly the day's most rugged contest.

UCLA over Stanford: How does anyone know what's going to happen in this mystery circuit?

Skiping over the others:

THURSDAY

South Carolina over Clemson.

FRIDAY

Miami over Kansas, Mississippi Southern over Chattanooga.

SATURDAY

EAST: Navy over Pennsylvania, Brown over Rhode Island, Lehigh over Columbia, Dartmouth over Harvard, Princeton over Cornell, Rutgers over Richmond, Syracuse over Penn State, Yale over Colgate, Holy Cross over Boston University.

MIDWEST: Ohio State over Wisconsin, Cincinnati over College of Pacific, Boston college over Detroit, Villanova over Indiana, Iowa State over Kansas State, Texas Christian over Marquette, Missouri over Nebraska, Purdue over Miami of Ohio.

SOUTH: The Citadel over Furman, Mississippi over Arkansas, Virginia Tech over Florida State, Kentucky over Georgia, Tennessee over Maryland, Georgia Tech over Tulane, Virginia Military over George Washington, North Carolina over Wake Forest, West Virginia over William & Mary, Florida over Louisiana State.

SOUTHWEST: Rice over Texas, Hardin Simmons over West Texas State.

FAR WEST: Arizona over West Texas State, Utah over Wyoming, Denver over Brigham Young, Oregon State over Washington, Utah State over Colorado State, New Mexico over Montana, Oregon over California, San Jose over North Texas State, Southern California over Washington State, UCLA over Stanford.

Iowa State Is Favored Over K-State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Iowa State is favored to defeat the Kansas State Wildcats Saturday at Ames in one of two homecoming games on the Big Eight Conference schedule but the outcome may hinge on the condition of tailback Dwight Nichols.

The 21-year-old Iowa State sophomore suffered a wrist injury last week while playing against Nebraska.

Missouri will celebrate one-coming at Columbia by taking on Nebraska.

Oklahoma plays Colorado at Norman in the only other league game. Kansas plays at Miami Friday night and Oklahoma State is idle this week.

Nichols, who stands 5-10 and weighs 170, has developed into one of the conference's leading backs. A rugged defender, the Knoxville, Iowa, rookie is tied for runner-up honors in rushing and leads the league in passing. He has carted the ball 96 times for 333 yards to share the No. 2 spot with Colorado's Eddie Dove.

Nichols has thrown the ball 43 times, connecting on 23 for 284 yards and he has scored 24 points on four touchdowns.

The last Cyclone victory over K-State was 27-0 in 1932.

K-State will enter the game with a 0-2 record in conference action and 1-3-1 for the season.

Iowa State stands 1-2 in the league and 2-2-1 for the season.

The Cyclones ran at full speed in the rain yesterday as Coach Jim Myers decided to get his charges accustomed to adverse weather conditions.

K-State also went through a heavy scrimmage session.

Coaches Think Big 10 Best In Nation

CHICAGO (AP)—Some Big Ten football coaches are hailing their conference the best in the nation in the wake of upsets by Illinois and Purdue, but it isn't necessarily so.

Illinois' 34-13 victory over Minnesota and Purdue's 20-13 triumph over Michigan State last Saturday appear to prove there is a bit more balance in the league than was suspected.

The Big Ten might be the best as a conference but that will never be proved. Individually, Western Conference teams haven't fared too well against intersectional rivals.

Big Ten teams have played 16 nonconference games this season and have won 10. That's a 625 percentage and not very sparkling considering some of the opposition.

Celtics Open Title Defense With Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Boston's dazzling Celtics opened up defense of their National Basketball Assn. championship last night with an easy 115-90 victory over the St. Louis Hawks on the losers' home court.

The game was the first of the NBA season but tonight there's doubleheader at Detroit, a new NBA franchise.

Boston plays Detroit and the New York Knicks collide in the other half of the twin bill.

Bob Cousy, at 6-1 the shortest man on the Celtics, and Bill Russell, the tallest at 6-11, were too much for the Hawks last night.

Cousy got 24 points and contributed his usual glittering floor game.

Russell, a defensive standout last year, pumped in 20 points, blocked numerous St. Louis shots and controlled rebounds off both backboards.

Bob Pettit, St. Louis' one-handed jump shooter, tallied 26 points for the game's scoring honors.

Last year the Hawks won only two of nine games against the Celtics in the regular season of play, both by two points.

In the NBA finals, the Celtics beat St. Louis in the four-out-of-seven championship series, winning the seventh game 125-123 in double overtime.

Don Cooper Receives Trophy at Speedway

Don Cooper, 218 1/2 South Kentucky, was presented a trophy Sunday night at the Sportsman's Speedway at Marshall for being the most popular driver. His sister also received a trophy for winning the powder puff derby on Oct. 13.

Quinn Finally Reaches Goal, Film Director

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Happiest man in Hollywood today is Anthony Quinn, who has finally achieved his long ambition of directing a picture. He has the reins on the remake of "The Buccaneer," in which he played a small role 20 years ago.

What's more, he's starting out first class—the picture will cost a mere $4,000,000. I caught him in between sprints around the crowded set and asked if his boss, Cecil B. DeMille, was worried about him.

"I guess not," Tony replied. "After I got the picture started, he took off for Europe." DeMille is also his father-in-law.

"This won't be the last picture Tony will direct," said a member of the cast, Charles Boyer. "I think he's going to be one of the really important directors in films."

But two-time Oscar winner Quinn isn't giving up acting. His next assignment will be on the other side of the camera.

Frank Sinatra and Lauren Bacall had their first formal outing together in Hollywood society at Frank's party at the Villa Capri after the preview of "Pal Joey." Naturally, this added more fuel to the romance rumors.

It's nobody's business but their own, but the fact remains that Betty and Frank are ideally suited to each other. They think alike artistically and politically (Democratic, they travel in the same circle and they're both lonely.

"Pal Joey" is further evidence that the production code is becoming more elastic. Some of the cracks are as racy as any heard in films of recent vintage. Biggest laugh came when Kim Novak asked Sinatra if he could cook. "Sure," he replied. "A fellow can't live on Wheaties alone."

Local audiences are startled to see Richard Rober in the cast of the recently released "Jet Pilot."

Rober's presence demonstrates the age of the film. He was killed May 26, 1952, in an automobile crash.

Predict Successful Separation for Twins

WELLINGTON, Tex. (AP)—Doctors say examination indicates the Estrada Siamese twins can be safely separated.

The 4-day-old infant girls are joined at the chest and abdomen but Dr. Dale Watkins said they have separate digestive systems. He said tests also indicate "pretty positively" that the circulatory systems are separate.

The twins, Guadalupe and Ragueta, were born Saturday to Mrs. Lina Estrada, 38, an itinerant farm worker of Donna, Tex.

'Omnibus' Has Fine Opening Program

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP) — An excellent example of first-rate entertainment was "Stover at Yale," the initial offering of "Omnibus" as it returned for a sixth season.

In years past boys read Owen Johnson's story about Dink Stover as an entertaining yarn. "Omnibus" (NBC-TV, alternate Sundays, reviving Johnson's basic purpose in writing the story, asked its viewers to find something of more than historical interest in it.

"Stover at Yale," in Douglas Wallop's excellent script, had something timeless worthwhile to say about courage and nobility. It was a highly successful attainment despite a slight initial burden which Robert Saudek and his associates placed on their viewers.

The 90-minute drama with music was played as a period piece, circa 1910. We were asked to feel that the characters sincerely believed in the attitudes they assumed—and we did come to feel that they did.

But in its opening minutes the roles were played so broadly that the purpose appeared to be farcical, or satirical, of attitudes of the period.

Quite quickly, however, one fell in step with this unusual dramatic pace. One both enjoyed the quaint humor and found worthwhile human substance in the optimistic, credulous attitudes of a half century ago.

Another welcome addition to Sunday viewing pleasure is "Twentieth Century," a new series on the men and ideas that characterize this century (CBS-TV, Sunday).

Sir Winston Churchill was the subject of the first documentary of the series. His biography was told straightforwardly from birth to retirement.

Cook some extra rice and refrigerate it. Sweeten it to taste and add drained crushed pineapple and diced banana. Fold into whipped cream for a luscious dessert.

DETROIT (AP)—Convict Richard Sargeson's self-diagnosis of his leg ailment proved faulty. He said it was paralyzed and he couldn't walk.

Sargeson, 26, of Cornwall, Ont., was brought under guard from the Detroit House of Corrections to Receiving Hospital for an examination.

Left unguarded for a moment, he quickly slipped his handcuffs and fled.

He was serving six months for assault.

Loophole in Law

BEREA, Del., Oct. 23.—Prisoners who can't pay their fines evidently have a one-way ticket out of jail here, until lawmakers patch the loophole. More than 118 were released this week, according to Elwood H. Wilson, director of the Delaware penal system. He said still others would be freed after taking pauper's oaths. A 1953 revision of the Delaware legal code provides that justices of the peace do not have authority

Wall Street Ponders Over Its Barometer

NEW YORK — A badly shaken Wall Street today wondered when its favorite barometer, the stock market, would straighten itself out.

The market has been declining since mid-July. Many paper profits have been erased.

This week brokerage house board rooms have been crowded with people, intently watching the illuminated ticker tape and asking, "When will the turn come?"

Some Wall Street prophets feel the decline may be bottoming out. Others aren't so sure. Few, if any, expect an immediate return of a rampaging bull market.

Looking back on the decline, many agreed with Gerald Loeb, partner in E. F. Hutton & Co., "It's a little too late to sell and a little too early to buy."

In the first two days this week the market has taken a severe drubbing on heavy selling waves. On Monday the break was the largest for any day since Sept. 26, 1955, following President Eisenhower's heart attack.

Yesterday things were a little better. The market didn't go down quite as much as on Monday. But it did sink to a new low for more than 2 1/2 years.

Quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange totaled $219,175,881,025 Jan. 1. Since then about 30 billion has been clipped from that figure, based on the fall in the Associated Press average.

That average reached its 1957 high of $188.80 July 12. Yesterday it closed at $150.90.

In back of the downturn brokers pointed to numerous items, which could generally be summed up in the word "uncertainty" about the domestic and international situations.

On the domestic front there were such items as tight money, defense order cancellations, minor layoffs at scattered points, failure of business to boom as much as the more optimistic had anticipated.

On the international front there were such items as concern over the Middle East and whirling evidence, in the form of Sputnik, that Russia is ahead of the United States in missile developments.

The men who handle vast sums of money as managers of big mutual funds were cautious about the market.

Confidential Mail For President Goes To Wrong Person

WASHINGTON — A stenographer's error apparently directed to a Democratic congressional secretary some confidential inter-office White House mail meant for President Eisenhower's economic adviser.

Paul Saunier Jr. is secretary to Rep. Gary (D-Va.) Dr. Raymond J. Saulnier, who works in the Executive Office Building adjoining the White House, is chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers. Their names are close together in the Congressional Directory.

But the packet of papers delivered by White House messenger last week was addressed to "Dr. Paul Saunier Jr." at the House Office Building.

Saunier read well into the matter before realizing it was not meant for him. But he stopped, he said, before getting to an enclosed copy of a letter Eisenhower had written to Mobilization Director Gordon Gray.

Instead, he said, he returned the whole package to presidential assistant Sherman Adams "with the very earnest hope that the unfortunate stenographer who made this error in your office will not be dealt with too harshly."

that the prices of many other stocks have reached points where they represent excellent values for long-term investment."
